

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA

CHRISTY DERINGER,

Plaintiff,

v.

LYONS MAGNUS, LLC, et al.,

Defendants.

Case No. 1:22-cv-00968-JLT-SAB

ORDER DIRECTING CLERK OF COURT
TO ADJUST THE DOCKET TO REFLECT VOLUNTARY DISMISSAL PURSUANT TO RULE 41(a) OF THE FEDERAL RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE

(ECF No. 37)

Plaintiff Christy Deringer, individually and on behalf of all others similarly situated, filed this putative class action on August 3, 2022. (ECF No. 1.) On December 6, 2022, Defendants filed a motion to dismiss. (ECF No. 26.) No opposition to the motion to dismiss has been filed, no other responsive pleading has been filed, and no motion for class certification has been filed in this action. On March 31, 2023, the District Judge granted the parties' motion to stay this action, and ordered dispositional documents to be filed within thirty (30) days. (ECF No. 36.) On April 14, 2023, Plaintiff Christy Deringer filed a notice of voluntary dismissal of this action and their individual claims only pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 41(a)(1)(A)(i). (ECF No. 37.) Plaintiff dismisses this action without prejudice and with each party to bear their own costs and fees.

“[U]nder Rule 41(a)(1)(A)(i), ‘a plaintiff has an absolute right to voluntarily dismiss his action prior to service by the defendant of an answer or a motion for summary judgment.’ ” Commercial Space Mgmt. Co., Inc. v. Boeing Co., Inc., 193 F.3d 1074, 1077 (9th Cir. 1999) (quoting Wilson v. City of San Jose, 111 F.3d 688, 692 (9th Cir. 1997)). “[A] dismissal under Rule 41(a)(1) is effective on filing, no court order is required, the parties are left as though no action had been brought, the defendant can’t complain, and the district court lacks jurisdiction to do anything about it.” Commercial Space Mgmt. Co., Inc., 193 F.3d at 1078. Courts do not generally consider a motion to dismiss to be an answer or a motion for summary judgment for purposes of Rule 41. See Concha v. London, 62 F.3d 1493, 1506 (9th Cir. 1995) (“Even if the defendant has filed a motion to dismiss, the plaintiff may terminate his action voluntarily by filing a notice of dismissal under Rule 41(a)(1).”); Post Tension Cables Inc. v. Actuant Corp., No. 219CV01455RSLDWC, 2019 WL 6686679, at *1 (W.D. Wash. Nov. 12, 2019) (“Here, Defendant has not filed an answer or motion for summary judgment, and Defendant’s Motion to Dismiss does not impact Plaintiff’s ability to voluntarily dismiss this case.”), report and recommendation adopted, No. 219CV01455RSLDWC, 2019 WL 6683775 (W.D. Wash. Dec. 6, 2019); Kun Yuan Asset Mgmt. Co. Ltd. v. Su, No. 21-CV-06236-BLF, 2022 WL 206794, at *1 (N.D. Cal. Jan. 24, 2022) (“While Defendant has filed a motion to dismiss, this does not constitute an ‘answer or a motion for summary judgment’ under Rule 41(a)(1)(A)(i).”); see also Crum v. Circus Circus Enterprises, 231 F.3d 1129, 1130 n.3 (9th Cir. 2000) (“A motion to dismiss is not a ‘responsive pleading’ within the meaning of Rule 15.”); Appling v. Serv. Mgmt. Sys., Inc., No. F06-1645 AWILJO, 2007 WL 127973, at *1 (E.D. Cal. Jan. 12, 2007) (“Here, the Defendant did not file an answer, but instead filed a motion to dismiss and a motion to strike . . . Plaintiff was entitled to file his amended complaint as a matter of course under Rule 15(a).”).

Pursuant to Rule 23(e) the “claims, issues, or defenses of a certified class--or a class proposed to be certified for purposes of settlement--may be settled, voluntarily dismissed, or compromised only with the court's approval.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e). On December 1, 2003, Rule 23(e) was amended to allow the “parties to a proposed class action to stipulate to dismissal of the action without any judicial approval where the class has not yet been certified.” Sample v.

1 Qwest Commc'ns Co. LLC, No. CV 10-08106-PCT-NVW, 2012 WL 1880611, at *3 (D. Ariz.
 2 May 22, 2012); see also Appeals by named plaintiffs and defendants, 4 Newberg on Class
 3 Actions § 14:11 (5th ed.) (“Rule 23 requires judicial approval of the settlement of certified cases
 4 only.”). “The Advisory Committee Notes to the 2003 rules amendments confirm that Rule 23(e)
 5 does not apply to settlements or dismissals that occur before class certification.” Sample, 2012
 6 WL 1880661, at *3 (quoting Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e) advisory committee’s note (“The new rule
 7 requires approval only if the claims, issues, or defenses of a certified class are resolved by a
 8 settlement, voluntary dismissal, or compromise.”).) “The drafters of the amendments intended to 9 ‘limit the reach of judicial approval’ of voluntary dismissals of class action.” Sample, 2012 WL
 10 1880661, at *3 (quoting Alexandra N. Rothman, Bringing an End to the Trend: Cutting Judicial 11 “Approval” and “Rejection” Out of NonClass Mass Settlement, 80 Fordham L.Rev. 319, 330
 12 (citing Fed. R. Civ. P. 23, Summary of Proposed Amendments (Nov. 18, 2002) (explaining that 13 approval “is not required if class allegations are withdrawn as part of a disposition reached
 14 before a class is certified, because in that case, putative class members are not bound by the 15 settlement”))). While the voluntary dismissal has been considered problematic, the revised rule
 16 does allow the parties to voluntarily dismiss the action without court approval where the class
 17 has not been certified. Sample, 2012 WL 1880661, at *3; see also Voluntary dismissal, 2
 18 McLaughlin on Class Actions § 6:1 (17th ed.) (“where no class has been certified, voluntary
 19 dismissal or settlement of a putative class action in federal court is governed not by Rule 23, but 20 by Rule 41 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure”). Here, no class has been certified and the 21 matter is being dismissed without prejudice. Therefore, the Court finds that dismissal does not
 22 require court approval under Rule 23(e).<sup>1</sup>

 precertification settlement proposals in the wake of the 2003 amendments . . . [b]ut our decisions have ‘generally assumed that it does’ apply . . . and this Court will follow Diaz to evaluate the proposed settlement and dismissal here.”). However, this Court maintains its previous view and agreement with other courts that the 2003 amendment

Accordingly, the Clerk of the Court is HEREBY DIRECTED to adjust the docket to reflect voluntary dismissal of this action pursuant to Rule 41(a).

[h]owever, in 2003, the Congress revised Rule 23 to make clear that court approval is only required in a putative class action where the plaintiff seeks to approve a settlement of both individual and class claims . . . [thus] where the settlement and dismissal only pertain to the class representative’s individual claims, court approval is not required to dismiss the individual claims as the putative class claims, having not yet been certified, have not come into existence; thus, there is nothing to dismiss.”).
